Discussion Questions

Week 6: Politics in Exile

Leaders, read this out loud before you start questions. "The goal for tonight's question is for us to think through each of us individually where we do not line up what scriptures calls us to be. Let's avoid discussions that center on what we see other people are doing wrong."

1. What does it look like to honor a political figure or governing authority that you don't agree with?
2. When it comes to our current president do you struggle more to:
 - a. See him as a flawed, imperfect, sinful human being?
 - b. Or treat him as an image bearer of God who is worthy of dignity and respect?Based on your response, what does repentance look like for you?
3. Read 1 Peter 2:16. What does it look like to use your "freedom" to live as servants of God towards the government and every arena of life?
